Read the following passage carefully and answer the questions given below it.

Educational planning should aim at meeting the educational needs of the entire population of all age groups. While the traditional structure of education as a three layer hierarchy from the primary stage to the university represents the core, we should not overlook the periphery which is equally important. Under modern conditions, workers need to retrain, or renew their enthusiasm, or strike out in a new direction, or improve their skills as much as any university professor. The retired and the aged have their needs as well. Educational planning, in other words, should take care of the needs of everyone.

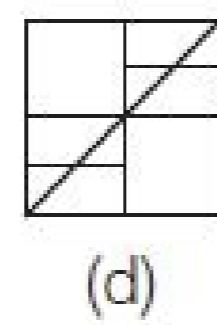

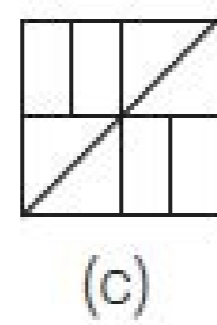

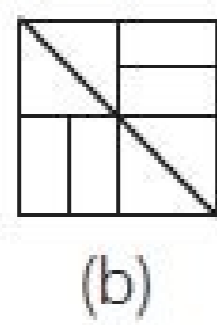

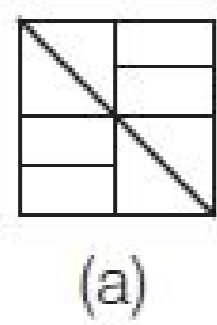

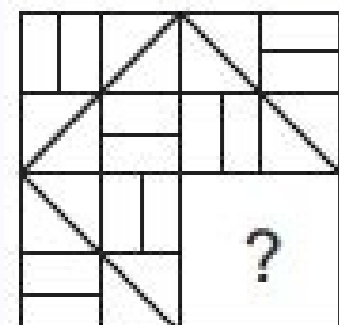

Our structures of education have been built up on the assumption that there is a terminal point to education. This basic defect has become all the more harmful today. A UNESCO report entitled 'Learning to Be' prepared by Edgar Faure and others in 1973 asserts that the education of children must prepare the future adult for various forms of self-learning. A viable education system of the future should consist of modules with different kind of functions serving a diversity of constituents. And performance, not the period of study, should be the basis for credentials. The writing is already on the wall.

In view of the fact that the significance of a commitment of lifelong learning and lifetime education is being discussed only in recent years even in educationally advanced countries, the possibility of the idea becoming an integral part of educational thinking seems to be a far cry. For, to move in that direction means so much more than some simple rearrangement of the present organisation of education. But a good beginning can be made by developing Open University programmes for older learners of different categories and introducing extension services in the conventional colleges and schools. Also, these institutions should learn to cooperate with numerous community organisations such as libraries, museums, municipal recreational programmes, health services etc.

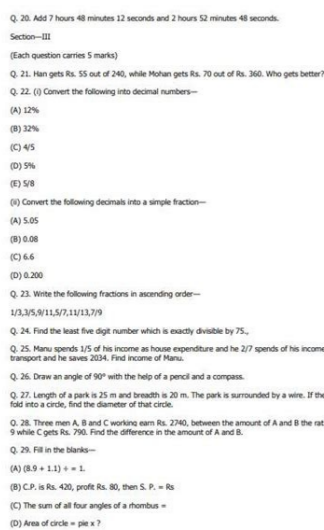

- Q1. What is the main thrust of the author?
 - (a) Traditional systems should be strengthened.
 - (b) Formal education is more important than non-formal.
 - (c) One should never cease to learn.
 - (d) It is impossible to meet the needs of everyone.
- Q2. What should be the major characteristic of the future educational system?
 - (a) Different modules with same function.
 - (b) Same module for different groups.
 - (c) No modules but standard compulsory programme for all.
 - (d) None of the above.
- Q3. According to the author, what measures should open university adopt to meet modern conditions?
 - (a) Develop various programmes for adult learners.
 - (b) Open more colleges on traditional lines.
 - (c) Cater to the needs of those who represent 'core'.
 - (d) Primary education should be under the control of open universities.
- Q4. In the context of the passage, what is the meaning of the sentence "The writing is already on the wall"?
 - (a) Everything is uncertain now-a-days.
 - (b) Changes have already taken place.
 - (c) The signs of change are already visible.
 - (d) You cannot change the future.

For any job application, one will always know that it is either you have scheduled an interview, or an aptitude test. This is common in all job arena from official work to unofficial jobs. All parastatals always deploy this method so as to select the best students among all the students that apply for the job that was announced to the general public. This also goes for the Nigerian navy who really opens their portal for eligible Nigerians to apply for a different position in the Nigerian Navy. Usually, the examination is not been conducted but over time as their interest increased and many people turn up for the job from all over the 36 states in the federation, it is paramount to put some measures in place so as to reduce the number of applicants and also adsorb the best of all these applicants. Even though the examination is not the only method of screening students but it is one of the ways to reduce the number of applicants from stage one and until the final stage of the screening exercise. At Defence Ready our job is simple - to optimise your performance in Navy selection in order to unlock access to the most rewarding and sought after Defence positions. We are committed to delivering world-class training and it shows in the results of our clients. I just wanted to let you know I had my second YOU session yesterday and resat the exams a year after I first did them. The first time I only unlocked 2 lines of jobs since last year I have studied using your site and systems and yesterday I unlocked every single job!! have read people's stories on your site but didn't believe I could perform that well, I knew I was doing well when I was in the exam but it shocked me to find out I scored so high. Great site, great system and all for a great course! Thank you so much" (Anonymous - moving into Special Forces Role) "Hi John, I just wanted to send a quick email to thank you and the Defence Ready team. I had my Y.O.U session today, and I performed much better than I had hoped. I now have to decide if I want to continue with the enlisted job I originally applied for or the officers positions I have been encouraged to pursue. Again thank you." Alice "Thank you so much for your advice and practice aptitude tests, they were fundaminal for preparing myself for the initial You session with the ADF. With your support, I have opened up a range of jobs that I hadn't previously thought about. I left school 20 years ago (with a below average report card). My results on the day were definitely elevated because of your training resources - the questions felt familiar and this made me feel confident, prepared and efficient. It was encouraging to find out all the technical jobs the young applicants were hoping for on the day, are also available to me (Geospatial technician, intel analyst, hydrographic surveying and all the trades). You need to know you're making a difference to people's lives, keep up the good work and thank you!" Carol "With regards to my YOU Session results, I am pleased to announce that I performed very well in the exams and as a result, all ADF positions are open to me. I am very thankful for the help of your organisation and I will highly recommend your program to anyone planning to serve in the ADF." Michael "Hi John, just wanted to drop you a line as I completed the aptitude test yesterday here in Sydney. I found your material very beneficial and it was a large contributor towards me blitzing it. I managed to complete all the questions for both exams with a couple of minutes to spare. The aptitude test was right inline with your examples. I am applying for an officer role which my results have more than sufficed so chuffed! Thanks again" Chris
